IMPERVIOUS TO GOSPEL, DANGER OF CHRISTIANS

Bishop Satterlee Fears Bible Truths and Promises No Longer Stimulate.

"The Christian of today is in danger of becoming gospel-hardened," said Bishop Henry Y. Satterlee last night, in his sermon at the Pro-Cathedral Church of the Ascension, discussing the parable of the "Ninety and nine." "You sit quietly in your pews and listen to the wonderful stories of God's love for the world without manifestation of feeling. I am afraid always myself that I shall become gospel-hardened, and I fear at times that Christians, hearing repeatedly the blessed promises, become hardened to their meaning."

PASTOR'S FIRST ANNIVERSARY.

The congregation of the First Baptist Church, Sixteenth and O Streets northwest, yesterday celebrated the first anniversary of the Rev. Charles F. Winbigler as their pastor. The pulpit was nearly hidden behind a bank of flowers, and the sermon was made appropriate to the occasion. Dr. Winbigler reviewed the work of the year, declaring the preliminary difficulties overcome. He said that his aim had been to preach on spiritual rather than material subjects.

The morning sermon was taken from I Corinthians iv:5, "Wherefore we labor that whether present or absent we may be accepted of him."

DOUBLE ANNIVERSARY OF TEMPLE BAPTIST

Foundation of Congregation and Dedication of Church Celebrated.

The service held yesterday at the Temple Baptist Church, N and Tenth Streets, was commemorative of two important events in the life and history of the congregation. It was in the nature of a double anniversary, celebrating the founding of the congregation, in 1845, as the Third Baptist Church, and the establishment of Temple Baptist Church, a year ago.

The sermons at the morning and evening services were preached by the pastor, the Rev. J. J. Muir, who took his text from Paul to the Ephesians: "This is a great mystery, but I speak of Christ and the Church." Dr. Muir said in part: "Sixty-one years ago this church started on its career for good and mutual benefit, and since that time it has been blessed. We have reaped the fruits of the works of the faithful who have gone before us. But there is too great a tendency nowadays to attribute too much to the past and to belittle the efforts of the present. Some of my hearers may be surprised when I tell them that this congregation within the past two years has raised the sum of $20,000 for this building, and although I have no intention of dwelling on this view of the question, I merely mention it as showing that the workers of today can suffer nothing by a comparison with the generations that are past."

The pastor insisted on the necessity for earnest, unflinching work by every man, woman and child who enjoys the promise of everlasting life. He explained that as the fathers of the church had accomplished so much, so his hearers could and should do. "Work," he concluded; "you are not too small, you are not too weak. You have certain duties which you must not shirk. You should live as an integral part of the church, the external organization and the invisible mystery of it, that sacred part from which comes all grace and strength. Let us all do this, and we shall start on the new church year with the love and devotion due to this union of Christ and the Church."

FIGHT AGAINST EVIL BY REFORM BUREAU

The Rev. Wilbur F. Crafts on Its Work, Past and to Come.

At the First Baptist Church last evening the Rev. Wilbur F. Crafts, superintendent of the International Reform Bureau, spoke on "Victories, Won and Waiting." He said in part:

"The International Reform Bureau fights intemperance, impurity, gambling and Sabbath breaking, not as four separate evils, but as four sides of a no-frowning fortress that is firing on every home, every church, every honest business, and which should therefore be attacked by all good citizens on all sides in the name of conscience and of commerce. We have not broken in the main walls, but we have captured some outlying breastworks on all four sides, with the aid of the Anti-Saloon League, the prohibition stalwarts, and other temperance organizations on the intemperance side; of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union on that and the impurity and Sabbath breaking sides, and of earnest men and women of many churches on all sides.

"Our next breastwork in order is half taken by a favorable report on the bureau's McCumber bill, to exclude liquors from soldiers' homes, a victory to be completed in the next Congress, as is the 'interstate commerce' half-victory, also. Then we shall be up against the citadel of 'infernal revenue,' by which the Government has become a ninth-tenths partner in every distillery and brewery. The conscience of the people is rebelling against the collection of a national 'tax' from speakasies, and this, at least, may be abolished soon.

"When this negative work is done, a battlefield is open for national prohibition of all interstate commerce in liquors, which will be enacted whenever the people will elect a Congress on the issue that it is as bad to sell liquors as to sell lottery tickets. Then our distilleries and breweries will need to follow the Louisiana Lottery into exile. And this and other victories wait only on the awaking of the 27,000,000 church members in this country."

HEARING NEW PREACHERS TO CHOOSE A PASTOR

The pulpit of St. Paul's English Lutheran Church was filled by the Rev. John H. Main, of Pittsburgh, Pa., at the morning and evening services yesterday. With a view to selecting some one to fill the vacancy at the church, caused by the recent resignation of the Rev. F. W. Moot, the directors of St. Paul's have invited a number of out-of-town preachers to officiate. The Rev. Mr. Main was one of the invited men. Owing to the interest in choosing the Rev. Mr. Moot's successor, the church was crowded at both services.

Rev. Mr. Main selected his text from "Seeing, then, that we have a Great High Priest that has passed into the Heavens, Jesus, the Son of God, let us hold fast our profession." The speaker confined his remarks to the possibilities of the human soul, the faith which God shows in soul work, and that Christ intercedes for us always at the right hand of God.

THE STORY OF FATHER JOHN'S

Fifty years ago an eminent specialist prescribed Father John's medicine for the late Rev. Father John O'Brien, of Lowell, Mass., by whom it was recommended and from whom it derived its name. It is not a patent medicine, and is free from opium, morphine or poisonous drugs or weakening stimulants in any form such as the majority of patent preparations depend upon for their temporary effect, and which are dangerous—you are warned against them. It makes flesh and strength and builds up the body. Previous pneumonia and consumption. Cures bronchitis, asthma and all throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed.

INSPIRATION OF NATURE TOLD BY DR. PARSON

He Draws Lessons From Vacation Time Observations.

The Rev. Dr. William E. Parson, pastor of the Church of the Reformation, occupied his pulpit yesterday for the first time in two months. His vacation was spent in the mountains of Pennsylvania and on the coast of Maine, and this gave him the inspiration for his sermon. He paid tribute to nature and pointed out how often men fail to see its beauties because they will not open their eyes, "perhaps because the weather is damp or because their are mosquitoes."

"The sea," he said, "is eloquent of God's purpose. You cannot fence in the Atlantic, and the wonder is that after all the thousands of the unwashed have bathed in it, after the contaminating things have run down into it, the sea is yet pure salt and wholesome, as at first. Here is a parable of God. We bathe in His purity, we are washed and made clean."

Dr. Parsons said the Maine prohibition law had a good moral effect, especially in the country villages where it is generally enforced. He described his visits to the one saloon in one of the cities. He went down a dark stairway into a room glaring with lights, where drinks were served. "A hole in the ground," he called it, such as any decent man would be ashamed to visit. Such a saloon, he said, was better than those in Washington which are invitingly placed on the open street, as a constant temptation.

LOCAL AUTOISTS RETURN FROM BALTIMORE TRIP

A party of Washington automobilists returned yesterday evening from a pleasant trip to Baltimore. Two Toledo and two Cadillac cars were used. One Toledo car was driven by Fulton R. Gordon, with Mrs. Gordon and Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Butts, in the other Toledo were Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Foss and C. E. Tyser. The two Cadillacs, driven by Fenlon B. Brock and R. Jose, carried Mrs. Brock, H. Doyle, W. E. Doyle and J. Fister.

The trip from Washington was begun Saturday afternoon at 2:30, and went through Olney and Damascus to Ridgeville, Md., a distance of forty miles. The party reached Ridgeville at 5 o'clock and remained there over night.

On Sunday morning at 9 o'clock they went from Ridgeville to Ellicott City, by the Baltimore-Frederick pike, in one hour, and by a roundabout road, Baltimore was reached at 11 o'clock. After a drive through Druid Hill Park, the return trip to Washington was made via Laurel, without an accident occurring on the entire trip.

SEASONABLE FOOD SUPPLIES ON MARKET BENCHES.

Fish were, with few exceptions, plentiful on the benches today. Blues and trout and rockfish were to be had everywhere. Panfish are also plentiful. Salmon is still bringing 30 cents a pound, however. Spanish mackerel and pompano were scarce, both bringing 25c to 30c a pound. Oysters still remain about the same, 30c to 50c a quart. Clams are more scarce than ever.

In the vegetable market there were practically no changes in price from Saturday. The supply, considering the fact that this was Monday, was good. Sweet potatoes are plentiful, and a larger supply of winter squash is now coming into the market. Corn is high, and will remain so.

Peaches were bringing 50 cents a box this morning. Nearly all of them are shipped here from the North and, and the fruit is larger and better. Cantaloupes are growing scarcer, and bring 15 cents and upward.

A few more turkeys were visible this morning, but the demand for them is still small.

Meats, it is said, will probably be plentiful this winter, but, strange as it may seem, it is also said the prices will continue high.
